CHARRED BODY OF TOT FOUND IN FIRE RUINS

Sen. Watson Causes Uproar During Probe

Fiery Georgian Threatens To Slip Face Of Army Officers Present At Probe Of Sensational Charges—
Pandemonium Reigns In Room

(By United Press)
Washington, D. C. Dec. 9.—First-lieutenants were narrowly averted today at the Senate investigation into the sensational charges brought by Senator Tom Watson, Democrat of Georgia, that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France, when the fiery Georgian threatened to slap the face of an army officer attending the hearing.

Watson was finally pacified by Senator Shield of Tennessee and Senator Brandegee, chairman of the committee, who ordered the officer from the room with a curt "Get out of here."

The clash occurred after Senator Watson protested to the committee that it was putting him in a "straight jacket" by narrowing the scope of its investigation to the single charge that American soldiers were hanged without trial.

He suddenly turned to a table nearby where sat Col. W. A. Bethel, Major John P. Densmore and Major George W. Cohen. Advancing upon the officers and shaking his fist, Watson said:

"You can't browbeat me. I'll slap your face for you. You must think you're over in France bulldozing privates, or two pennies I'd slap you jaws. I know what my witness might expect from such a man as you."

The excitement of the hearing, with a room packed full of spectators chiefly women, was touched off. The officers sat and glared back at Watson but made no attempt to move. "The Sergeant-at-Arms will tell Senator Watson not to insult the army officers," shouted Chairman Brandegee above the din, pounding on the table.

Officers Ordered to Leave
"Having been insulted I'll retire," shouted Watson.

"You must be in order, Senator," shouted Sen. Shields of Tennessee, starting around the table to where Watson stood.

"Direct your remarks to that bull dog jawed man over there," Watson yelled back.

Senator Brandegee then promised the officers would retire.

"Get out of here now," ordered Brandegee and the officers left the room. The hearing was then resumed.

SLAYER GOES TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

Richmond, Va., Dec. 9.—Dr. William Amos Hadley went to his death in the electric chair in the Virginia State Penitentiary this morning at 8:07, for the murder of his wife, Sue Kinsley Hadley, three years ago.

Hadley bore up well last night and went to the chair without assistance. It required two shocks to carry out the law's decree.

SUCCESS OF ARMS LIMITATION MEET IS NOW ASSURED

Jap Delegates Inform British Tokio Accept Principle Of 4-Power Pacific Pact.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 9.—Sweeping success of the Arms Limitation Conference was assured today.

Agreement on the major problem before the conference that will thrill the world probably will be formally announced at a plenary session of the conference to be held Monday, a day early next week.

The Japanese delegates today gave definite assurance to British representatives that the 60 per cent capital ship ratio allotment in the Hughes Limitation of Naval Armament proposal had been accepted by Tokyo.

General approval at least has already been given by the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan to the Quadruple Pacific Entente of these powers which has been arranged by the "Big Three."

France Generally Approves

Paris, France, Dec. 9.—The general plan for a Quadruple Pacific Entente, made up of Great Britain, United States, Japan and France, has been well received by Premier Briar. It was semi-officially stated here today.

The Premier, however, is going over some of the details of the alliance which he believes far from French ideas and may wish to alter the original draft.

Quadruple Entente Meets

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—Meeting of the representatives of the four power Pacific Entente was held today at Secretary of State Hughes.

SHERIFF BRINGS BACK ALLEGED STOCK DEFRAUDER

J. Siebert Tate, Nabbed In Nashville, Tenn., Returned To Jail Here.

BIGLER TOWNSHIP LADY COMPLAINS

Says Tate Failed To Make Proper Use Of Stock Checks.

Charged with having defrauded out of $3225 in a stock transaction, J. Siebert Tate, formerly of Blair County, was brought back to Nashville, Tenn., last night by Sheriff Gorman to face charges of embezzlement preferred by Mrs. Julia Wardo. The alleged offense took place in November, 1920, information against Tate not being filed until August, 3, 1921, when Mrs. Wardo appeared before Justice of the Peace John Seelens, of Houtzdale's seeking Tate's arrest.

County authorities at once began work on the case and a few days ago Tate was nabbed by civil authorities in Nashville. On Monday Sheriff Gorman left for Harrisburg, having secured extradition papers, and went to Nashville after Tate. He brought Tate back to the county jail last night where he is now lodging awaiting trial. He was indicted by the present grand jury.

Given Checks for Stock.
According to the complaint made by Mrs. Wardo, on the 12th day of November, 1920, she gave Tate a check for $701 drawn on the Madeira National Bank which was to apply on a stock purchase transacted through the Agency. Tate is said to have presented himself as an agent of V. F. Wright & Co. of Pittsburgh, selling stock in the Soissons Brick Co., and also of the Gilchrist Drug Co.

On November 15th, Mrs. Wardo claims she gave Tate two more checks, drawn on the Houtzdale National Bank for the sums of $725 and $799 to apply on the stock deal. According to the complaint filed before Justice of the Peace Seelens, Tate is alleged to have appropriated the check for his own use and did willfully, maliciously and feloniously take, steal, and carry away said checks.

Tate is now held in the county jail pending trial before the next criminal court.

Former Resident Of Woodland Badly Scalded

According to a dispatch in the Philadelphia Ledger, Leon H. Albert of Elmira, Pa., was severely scalded in a boiler explosion on the Pennsylvania near Pittsburgh. Mr. Albert was a fireman on the exploding boiler and a former resident of Woodland and Philipsburg. The engineer on the engine was killed. Relatives here have learned that his injuries are painful but not real serious.

DUBOIS HUNTER KILLED VICTIM OF OWN GUN

Chas. Kelmes Has Top Of Head Blown Off Trying To Put Rabbit In Hunting Coat.

DuBois, Pa., Dec. 9.—The first local fatality of the present hunting season was recorded yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock near London Mines, when Charles Kelmes, of this city accidentally shot and killed himself while standing on a log, attempting to put a dead rabbit in the back of his hunting coat.

Kelmes, who was hunting with companions had just killed a rabbit, was tucking it away when his companion heard the report of a gun and turned to see Kelmes topple off the log. He rushed to the stricken man, saw blood gushing from the top of his head, and hurried to a nearby farmhouse for help, but was unable to locate any one to assist him until he reached the Robert Fugate home.

However, Kelmes was beyond assistance and Coroner Pullum hearing of the accident, ordered the body removed to an undertaking establishment. The victim is survived by his wife and three children the youngest being three weeks old.

Blind Publisher Drowns In Bath

London, Eng., Dec. 9.—Sir Arthur Pearson, widely known blind publisher, was drowned in his bath tub here today. While bathing he slipped and fell, his head striking the edge of the tub rendering him unconscious and he drowned.

Father Rushes Out Of Bedroom To Fight Blaze-Mother Saves Two Months Old Babe--Toddler Left In Crib

CURTAIN OF FLAME BLOCKS WAY

Awakened by the smell of burning wood, the crackling of flames and a curtain of smoke creeping into their bedroom, Eugene Six and his wife, carrying a two months old babe, escaped from their burning home near Fulton Tunnel early this morning. Lavonne Six, two-year-old daughter, left behind in her crib when her father rushed out to get water to fight the blaze, was trapped by the flames ere she could climb from her crib and toddle to safety, and nothing but charred remains of the little body could be found when the frantic father, aided by neighbors, plowed their way through the cooling ruins later on.

The Six family living in a three room house on the farm of Mrs. Six's father, Joseph Wilts, over Fulton tunnel, about three miles from Clearfield were awakened about 1 o'clock by the crackle of flames. The father jumped to his feet calling to his wife as he rushed through the bedroom door to get water to combat the flames.

Mrs. Six grasping her two months old babe, which had been in bed with her, in her arms and clad only in her night clothes made a dash for the outside and succeeded in escaping the flames. Six himself once on the outside saw the seriousness of the blaze and started to return after Lavonne, the two year old daughter who was asleep in her crib at the time the fire started.

However, while his wife looked on, his way to the bedroom was blocked by a curtain of flames through which he made unsuccessful attempts to enter to save the child, but to no avail. Six was badly burned about the head, all of his hair being burned off, it was reported, his hands and face badly burned and otherwise scorched before he was forced to give up the battle and watch the little homestead with all that was mortal of the infant swiftly fed into the flames.

Help Comes Too Late
Neighbors aroused by the reflection of the holocaust, came running to his aid, but it was too late. Walls and roof tumbled in burying the bedroom under a shower of debris. Later, after the smoking ruins had sufficiently cooled to allow searchers to get to work the charred remains of little Lavonne Six was recovered from the death trap. Neighbors took charge of Six and his wife and the surviving babe, all of whom escaped from the house barefooted and clad only in their night clothes.

All of their belongings went up in smoke. Not a thing was saved.
Origin a Mystery
The origin of the fire is not definitely known, although it is presumed to have started on the roof from a defective flue, or from a sparrow from information that could be gathered here Friday morning.

The body of the dead tot was brot to the Leavy Undertaking Establishment and prepared for burial, which will probably take place tomorrow in Hillcrest.
Eugene Six had his burns treated Friday morning by a surgeon and while painful it is not believed they will prove troublesome.

Jury Mills Camp Gets Limit
Hunters from the Jury Mills camp broke camp Wednesday and came to town. They secured the limit, six fine bucks. For particulars see Joe Phillips, he never gets tired of telling them.
"Skinny" Connelly one of "the hunters" from Stone Run and slayer of the camp's finest buck of the season, walked in over the hills today. He reports that Stone Run has only two bucks, while Pitch Pine has four so far this season. John Woods, Frank Pasmore, Bill Goss and Robert Sands were the lucky ones there. Bob Sands' buck has been termed "The Antlered Daddy" being the largest reported this season and believed to be a brother of "Old Beecher."

Sykesville Camp has three bucks now, and Sen Road Camp two.

DESPERADO TAKES FATE OF SLAYER OVER STATE PEN. NOW UP TO JURY

Tom Slaughter Captures Arkansas State Prison; Turns Convicts Loose And Escapes.

(By United Press)
Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 9.—Tom Slaughter, condemned murderer, captured the state prison today and threw open the gates of the institution, inviting all of the convicts to flee.

He then calmly motored to liberty accompanied by six fellow prisoners after having ruled supreme in the penitentiary for five hours. Before leaving Slaughter locked the convicts that didn't dare follow him into their cells, herded the warden and his family into a death cell and left the guards disarmed, raging and hopeless.

Fights Way to Freedom
Intercepted by posse at Benton and Lonsdale, Slaughter engaged in gunbattle and eluded capture. He is believed to be heading for his old haunts in Texas and Oklahoma. The whole countryside is up in arms as Slaughter is the most feared desperado since Jesse James.
His exploits already rival those of Harry Tracey, the famed Oregon outlaw.

MOUNTED POLICE PATROL PACKING STRIKE DISTRICT

(By United Press)
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 9.—"Packing Town" was held at bay today by a regiment of mounted police armed with shotguns and a Federal injunction.

The guards were ready to bring machine guns and tear gas into play against the strikers if necessary. "Cossacks, dam the Cossacks" was shouted from second and third story windows as the mounted police and motorcycle guards passed the houses of the strikers.

DR. HIWALE TO LECTURE ON MUSIC OF FAR EAST

Interne At Local Hospital Will Tell Of Music Of India

Dr. Govind Sokharam Hiwale, of Bombay, India, interne at the Clearfield Hospital, will lecture on "Music in India" Monday December twelfth. The lecture, under the auspices of the Musical Club, will be in the College of Music auditorium at eight o'clock.

Inasmuch as "Music in India is a sacred art and assumes a principal part in the daily life of the people," according to Dr. Hiwale, the lecture promises to be vividly colored with details of Hindu life and custom. He expects to demonstrate with music, both vocal and instrumental; and with native costume for both men and women.

Dr. Hiwale's musical training in India consisted of six years under Prof. Koshe, one of the great students of Indian music. Dr. Hiwale speaks of the great demands on his memory during his studies, since Indian music has never been put in writing. He was taught to play four different Indian instruments, and taught music in the schools of Bom-

SAYS AMERICAN WORKING GIRLS HIGHEST TYPE

Better Paid Than Those In Europe According To Prominent British Union Delegate.

By CHAS. CANN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, Dec. 9.—Business girls in America do not bob their hair in smoke.

That is Miss F. MacDonald,
British delegate to the International Congress of Working Women at Geneva, obtained the recognition of American business life from American delegates.

Miss MacDonald is reported to London extra last night over the American girl of the war.

"Many American women were at the conference," she said. "They trick me as being more than that the of any other nation."

"The American girl, I was told are very difficult to organize into unions because none of them intend to remain as such workers. A girl goes into business as a junior typist and before long he is assistant to the head of the firm."

"But it doesn't do for her to bob her hair or smoke."

I was much impressed by the opportunities of promotion which girls have in America. They are better paid than the clerk here. Many of them come to Europe for a holiday.
Then firms give them leave for the purpose—it is looked on as part of their business education.

One girl I met, who is employed by an association which dissem-bles literally among the universities, had been given nine months' leave to come to Europe. The representative of the university of America told me that they are quite well paid and very well paid. The two extremes often exist in close side by side.

Miss Zeng, the Chinese delegate, told me that the Chinese suffrage has been lately been fighting the police. Some of the Chinese girls are now quiet inspectors on the railways, and many are typists.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

One of the oldest wells on record was that where a wealthy woman died. It was after the following fashion:

She took two picks of ends. On one she marked the names of the friends and relatives. He wanted to remember. On the other she wrote different articles of value she had to leave. She called in her attorney, gave him one pick of ends to them to start playing with them. He torn them down, and she threw down one from the other pick.
The next day every person's remembered and the well was up so that the person remembered the card that was taken with the card on which he had been written.

It is a well known fact that in New York City you would know about Lizzy by the time she full name—Liz-zy Linsman. He is the demon in prohibition office. He disguises himself as a trapeze artist, and perhaps is a hot dog, the next—but he generally returns with the beer.

His latest, (when this was written) was discussing himself and two companions as milk wagon drivers. They were driving nine different slices in one section of New York City, and had for milk punches—just to be sure. He then called them the Linsman's Linsman, they could not up the milk punches, but they had a whole lot of the real stuff straight —they feel.

As soon as you see a milk wagon punch at the back of the head.

Ninety of them were gathered at the end of the road.

M. Del. from the Frenchman, who was said to be able to remain under water long enough to shave him, eat a meal and eat a potato drink wine apparently to have brought the art of breath control to a fine point.

How long he remains under the water is not stated, but it is said that ten minutes he certainly has lost the breath he had.

That belongs to or belong to a dentist of the Medical School of California who in July, 1911, voluntarily held his breath for 10 minutes.

He was under observation at the time. His breathing organs were connected with a kymograph, and he would have recorded the shutouts in a pattern.

More than two thousand years ago a Greek in Alexandria discovered that in moving his mirror, an image in mirrors at that time. This was a curious musical sound to be heard.

So strange was he by this picture that he set about making an instrument which was the same thing as the modern organ.

After several experiments he made a flute which was in water, and which he then moved to a keyboard, the pressure here kept him from by water.

After a thousand years a French inventor made its appearance. This was of similar pattern but instead of water weights regulated the pressure.

In 1911 an organ was erected at Winchester, Eng. It had twenty six blows and ten pipes to each key. The two men who sat at the keyboard blew and sweated during the service.

Later, a firm of organ makers in Germany succeeded in erecting the first really big instrument. The pipes did not differ very much from those of today, although various novelties were introduced.

Among the novelties were the nightingale and cuckoo stops, while others represented each crowing and goat bleating. Through these novelties have now fallen into disuse, an organ with one of these nightingale stops is still to be seen in Rome.

It was not until the nineteenth century that the problem of the regulation of air pressures were solved by the introduction of a hydraulic blow organ.

Among the largest organs in the world is the Holland, Holland instrument which possesses sixty stops and 8,000 pipes. The Albert Hall, London, organ with 127 stops, the organ in St. George's Hall, Liverpool with 110 stops, one at St. Louis, Australia that boasts 150 stops, and one in the Sydney, Australia Town Hall with 126 stops.

A few hundred years ago you had to have a whole lot of bass to get
by. You need more of it today.

We fear that the following editorial was spoiled by the insertion yesterday of a line, which was thoughtlessly placed by a workman. We reprint it today and hope that every reader will respond to this true recital of one of the cases confronting the Anti-Tuberculosis Society here:

MAY HER HOPE COME TRUE

Here is a pretty state of affairs right at our back door. A mother of five children who was at Cresson, had to come home to take care of her children, so the father could go out to work and earn for them a living. She is very anxious to go back to the Sanitarium where she can regain her health, cannot get well under present conditions, and is patiently and hopefully awaiting on help. She has been promised twenty dollars a month out of the Christmas Seal Sale Fund and a like amount from the County Commissioners to take care of those children so the mother can go back to Cresson.

Now, ladies and gentlemen of Clearfield County this is a true recital of 1 case coming under the care of the Anti-Tuberculosis workers here but there are many parallels. Whether she and many more like her return to health and loved ones depends on your support of the Christmas Seal Sale. Make it a point to attach one of these little penny stamps to all your letters and your gifts. You can afford this penny a gift else you can not afford the gift.

Do not let this mother and her little ones hope in vain. Justify their faith in humanity and Christianity which teaches us to heal the sick and care for the afflicted.

PENROSE AND THE DRY LAW

The following statement from Roy A. Haines on the position of Senator Penrose on the Eighteenth Amendment is welcome news to the voters of this district. It is indeed quite significant. Persons close to the Senator declare that the liquor flood let loose during the last year is rapidly disappearing and that the flood gates will be kept closed:

"There has been no more loyal supporter of the re-organization of the prohibition unit, not only in Washington and Pennsylvania, but in the general national city, than Senator Penrose," said Roy A. Haines, Prohibition Commissioner, today.

Mr. Haines denied emphatically that political interference had seriously hampered enforcement in Pennsylvania.

"Senator Penrose has repeatedly assured me privately," Mr. Haines said, "and he has expressed his firm conviction publicly as well, that everything possible should be done to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment. There has not been a single instance in the re-organization of the Pennsylvania directors' office when Senator Penrose has even so much as made the suggestion of an appointment to me.

"The co-operation rendered on every hand by the splendid citizenship of Pennsylvania and the political leaders has gone very far toward making it possible to accomplish the results in the Keystone State."

Sporting Goods--the Gift For Young and Old

Young America enjoys nothing else as much as Sporting Goods for Christmas Gifts. Other things may be accepted with thanks, but nothing will render such keen enjoyment to the modern boy or girl as a Football, a Baseball, or anything that will give them the opportunity to romp and play in the open.

So with anything for the grown-up young Americans—as much in love with outdoor sports as their younger brothers and sisters.

Our store is chockfull with Sporting Goods of every description—all anxious to find a home with some happy, lively youngster or his big brother or sister.

MUSCLE SHOALS COUNTY NOW PREPARING FOR A BIG BOOM

Tri-Cities Wary Of Project-Refuse To Become Prematurely Enthused Over Ford Project.

Florence, Al., Dec. 8.—(United Press).—Living the most romantic industrial drama in American history, Florence, Sheffield and Tusculumbia, Ala., stand ready today to fulfill their destiny.

It is these three cities with an aggregate population of approximately 20,000 who are in the midst of Henry Ford's proposal to develop on a gigantic scale the government nitrate plant and Wilson dam, the greatest hydro-electric reservoir on the North American continent.

It is these three little cities and their herent residents who will benefit quickest and most from the acceptance of the Ford bid. Geographically the situation is rather unique. The Tennessee river here flows almost due west. At the foot of Muscle Shoals, and by shoals is meant merely a rocky upthrust in the bed of the river where the stream cuts its way down 140 ft. in 16 mile is the city of Florence. It is on the north bank.

Abutting on Florence city limits is the north end of the Wilson dam and the government reservation which the center of the Ford proposal.

Four and one half miles west of Florence and on the south bank of the stream stands Sheffield. Between Sheffield and Florence, partly in both is Nitrate Plant No. 2.

Two miles southwest of Sheffield and one mile off the river is Tusculumbia. Opposite Tusculumbia on the river is Nitrate Plant No. 1. The three towns are connected by railroads, one free bridge and an electric interurban car line.

Move to Merge Three Towns
A movement is already on foot to merge the three cities into one government and enlarge the incorporated area, now about 15 square miles to 20 or 25.

Problems confronting the people here on the eve of expansion that is expected overnight with the formal announcement of acceptance of the Ford bid, naturally fall into these lines:

Housing the sudden influx.
Preventing profiteering.
Expansion of public utilities.
Curbing insofar as possible speculation, of which there has been very little so far.

Probably the greatest point of interest to the outsider coming into the stage where Ford will play his mighty industrial drama is:

"What is the reaction of the people here?"

And the answer is that there is very little reaction, an entire absence of that hysteria of those who see riches in their grasp.

Tri-cities as the three towns are known collectively explain this by pointing to 1918 and the bitter awakening when the work was stopped on the nitrate plant. People here are still incredulous. They say to one another, "It is too good to be true."

The Tri-cities had a bitter awakening in 1919 when the payrolls on the nitrate plant project melted away and the 20,000 workmen melted away. Tri-cities had thought this would be permanent. Hence they are loath to accept good news.

Problem Acute
The most acute problem will of course be that of housing. Business men here estimate that within 60 days after the formal acceptance of the Ford offer there will be an influx of 60,000 people here. The ten lumber firms are prepared to furnish lumber and material for unlimited construction. Conservative estimates are that within six weeks of any given date, substantial six room houses could be completed at the rate of 50 or more a week.

This rests largely on the matter of labor supply. The lumber is available on short notice; so is the hardware. There is ample vacant property within short distances of the business center available.

In 1918, at the height of war work, people slept in attics, cellars, garages, tents, anywhere to be out of shelter. There was even a standard charge of 50 cents for the privilege of sleeping all night in an office chair.

Ford will inherit from the government facilities for caring for at least 15,000 people. These are permanent and semi-permanent structures on the various reservations. They had just been completed in 1918 when the Armistice was signed and did not benefit.

Wealth Of Australia

(By Mail to the United Press.)
Sydney, New South Wales, Nov. 20.—Australians and Englishmen touring Australia are coming to a better realization of the marvelous fertility and untold resources of the southern continent.

A western Australian parliamentary party, which just completed a thousand mile trip through the southwest corner of west Australia reported that it saw large rivers flowing through valleys of unsurpassed beauty and fertility surrounded by hills on which the soil is so rich that potatoes were grown right up to the very summits. They reported the existence of vast forests of karri and jarrah, the world's best hardwoods, embracing untold timber wealth.

Jud Tunkins, 3rd Tunkins says the reason he's asking a monopoly is the way a toll-gate keeper always lets the road run down when he has it all his own way.

WAR OVER IN OPERA

Paris, Dec. 8.—(United Press).—The war is over, at least as far as the opera is concerned. The concession granted to mere males during the war and since the armistice of appearing at the opera without the time-honored full evening dress has been withdrawn. The management considers that the unusual variations of dress worn by the men was a jarring note in the place always famous for brilliance of the toilettes worn by the audience. Some of them took advantage of the concession and appeared in tweeds and even golfing suits.

Bad Risk in Windows.
Nearly every business contributes bits of specialized knowledge to the common fund. It will strike many persons as a curious piece of information that plate glass insurance companies class windows with black lettering on them as "extra hazardous" risks. The explanation given is that a black surface absorbs the sun's rays. By this means, it is stated, an unequal expansion is produced throughout the plate and under the influence of a sudden gust of cold or any other quick change of temperature a strain is developed which may break the glass.

A Regal Canter

Hirohito, newly proclaimed regent of Japan, "goes" a canter through the streets of Tokyo. Doesn't appear to be used to the saddle, what?

Making of Natal.
The British colony of Natal is so named, because the territory was first discovered on Christmas day—the 25th or birthday of our Savior—in the year 1487. The discoverer was Vasco de Gama, the Portuguese navigator, who had been dispatched by Manuel, king of Portugal, to discover a road to India, via the Cape of Good Hope. It was just after the finding of the New world had enriched Spain, and all the maritime nations were eagerly anxious to make similar discoveries.

CHAPLAIN WARD TO MAKE FIRST VISIT HERE NEXT MONDAY

New Bishop Of Diocese Of Erie Will Be At St. Andrews Church For Initial Visit.

The Rt. Rev. John Chamberlain Ward, newly consecrated Bishop of the Diocese of Erie, will make his first regular visit to St. Andrews church of this city on Monday evening next.

Like his predecessor, the late Bishop Rogers Israel, Bishop Ward saw service during the war being chaplain of the 108th Infantry and for valorous deeds done under fire has been decorated in this country with the Congressional Medal of Honor and by Great Britain with the British Military Cross. However, the newly consecrated Bishop feels prouder of the fact that the doughboys named him "a regular guy" than he does of the honors conferred on him by government.

The Buffalo Times, in speaking of the consecration which took place on September 23rd says:

"The Rev. John C. Ward, courageous war chaplain rector of Grace Episcopal church, this morning donned the robes of bishop in impressive service in the church which he has served so faithfully for nineteen years. He will be Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Erie. Mr. Ward is the youngest clergyman ever elevated to the bishopric in the Episcopal church."

Continuing the Times says: "Indeed, the beautiful service this morning were in strong contrast to the scenes of not so many months ago when the members of the 108th Infantry found that John C. Ward is a real 'the man—a regular guy' the doughboys called him. Perhaps that is an undignified way to refer to a Bishop; yet who will say that this is not the title John C. Ward esteems above all others that might be given him."

"Ordered from the field of battle because to continue meant almost certain death, the chaplain of the 108th continued to work among his buddies, carrying the wounded, ministering to the dying and performing other heroic deed absolute disregard for his own safety until he was seriously wounded. Regarding his conspicuous bravery the American government presented Chaplain Ward with the medal of honor and England

CURWENSVILLE

The group meetings held in the Opera House in the interest of education, have passed into history. The last of the series was held this afternoon at two o'clock. The speeches were highly instructive and surely ought to bring teacher and pupil—the school and the home into closer relationship and arouse such an interest in the work of the schools as has never been felt in this community. The success of these meetings was due to the untiring efforts of Supt. Grant Norris, as Chairman, and Mr. Paul Robinson as secretary, ably assisted by J. Kantar, representing the American Legion.

Mrs. Dan Irvin entertained the Bridge Club at her home on River street last night.

J. F. Mitchell, of Bells Landing, transacted business in town.

Mrs. Howard Brownover is ill at her home on Thompson street.

Mrs. Spence of Locust street entertained the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church at an all day meeting yesterday. The ladies arrived about eleven o'clock with well filled lunch baskets. After lunch regular work of the society was taken up and the work for the winter season mapped out. At the close of the meeting the ladies left for their homes, having had a thoroughly enjoyable day in this hospitable home.

Fifty years ago on Dec. 7, 1871, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. McKendrick were married in Clearfield. They were happily reminded of this fact on Wednesday when a number of relatives came to spend the day with them. The list of these friends follows: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKendrick and sons, Charles and Howard, of Clearfield; Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKendrick and sons, Gray and John; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McClure; Mrs. Ed. Moore; Mrs. Ben Moore; Mrs. Wm. McDonald and daughter, Charlyne; and Mrs. Ruth Maurex. Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Conley and wife and Rev. P. A. Lynch, pastors of the family, were also among the guests.

The celebration was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. McKendrick, who received some handsome presents and a sum of money. They were also the recipients of many cards and letters of congratulations. A fine dinner was served and all present report a very pleasant time. Mr. McKendrick's parents celebrated their golden wedding Nov. 4, 1891 and eight children were born to this union. The host on Wednesday was the only one of these eight who has lived to celebrate his 50th anniversary.

A. B. Cooper was a business visitor in town today.

Miss Ida Robinson returned Wednesday from a ten months visit in Washington, Harrisburg and Walnut Grove.

At a meeting on Dec. 7th, of the Women's Auxiliary of the Clearfield Hospital, the secretary was instructed to send a vote of thanks to the schools of Clearfield and Curwensville for their generous donations at the Thanksgiving time.

Men Of The Hills Look Askance At Efforts Of Veterans' Bureau To Give Pensions.

Washington, Dec. 9.—(United Press)—"I wasn't any hero soldier and didn't get shot, but just got blown up trying to put out a fire in camp."

This statement was made to members of the United States Veterans' Bureau in Buchanan, Virginia, by a man whose face had nearly been blown away by a gasoline explosion in France. He was surprised that the government should offer him compensation. This displays one type of ignorance which has been met in work for war veterans in the hill country of Virginia and West Virginia. In some sections it was thought Suffer from Backache? If so, this is of Vital Importance to You.

I suffered with backaches, my eyes would puff up, my ankles would swell and my kidneys were congested. I was in misery all the time and became weak and thin. I doctored but did not get any relief to speak of until I began taking 'Anuric' and the first bottle gave me wonderful relief. Four bottles completely cured me. I consider it the best kidney medicine I have ever taken."—Mrs. Jessie A. Reed, 806 1/2 19th St.

that unless a man had been a marked hero, or shot in battle, that he was not entitled to anything. Investigation in other hill regions show that many ex-soldiers are suspicious of the aims of the government. They are wary of the efforts of the War Veterans Bureau in their behalf, because of a misunderstanding of the government's purpose.

The idea prevails, according to members of the "Clean-Up Squad" and other agents of the Veterans' Bureau, that the government compensation is either a pension that goes to all men who saw service, or a "sleek" move on the part of the government to get them back into army.

Those who looked upon the government relief as a pension could not see why one man was getting $8 a month, another $16 and still another close to $80. Among some, the efforts of the Veterans' Bureau were thought to be for the purpose of making a new draft list to get them back into the army, because they were required to make application before the government would give them compensation.

In the "moonshine" localities, according to the agents of the Veterans' Bureau, there was the fear at first that they might be "revenuers."

Much of this fear has now been overcome.

Some thrilling experiences have been reported in the hills of West Virginia, by a nurse of the Veterans' Bureau, who has had to do much of her traveling on horseback and foot, because of the lack of transportation facilities. One occasion she was picked up by a group of men in an automobile who recognized her and offered to "tote" her some six or eight miles. She got in the car and minded her own business, but she had to rest her heels high on several demijohns of "corn liker" and had several waits on her trip while deliveries were being made.

Second Showing To-Night Bryant Washburn IN "THE SINS OF ST. ANTHONY" IT'S A SCREAM

A sprightly tale of an innocent boob on a scandalous search for pep. Charlie Collins wrote the story, which ran in the Saturday Evening Post, and Elmer Harris made it into a scenario. Margaret Loomis plays the leading woman. Directed by James Cruze, who directed Wallace Reid in "The Roaring Road," "The Lottery Man," and other successes. The story is of a young college instructor who knows much of science, but little of life, and how he comes out of his dreams and to a realization of the pleasant things that are going on about him. There is an imposter, too, in the story, who precipitates many complications, but who finally comes to grief. Mr. Washburn's successes, beginning with "Skinner's Dress Suit" and running all down the line through "Why Smith Left Home," are excelled in laughter-producing powers by "The Sins of St. Anthony."

GOOD VISION IS A BLESSING

Inherent weakness and abuse often develop focusing irregularities which cause the delicate eye muscles to send out distress signals in the form of headaches, burning eyelids or blurring.

Don't disregard these signals.

Good vision is such a blessing that you should have your eyes examined by a competent professional optometrist and endeavor to preserve your sight as long as possible.

TOYS FOR THE STOCKINGS OF GOOD LITTLE GIRLS AND BOYS

You must make haste if you want to see the toys before Santa Claus takes them all for his good little girls and boys. There are games—high stacks and rows of them, mechanical and electrical toys, dolls and doll things, hobbledy-horses, trains, wagons, fire departments, Teddy Bears, woolly Woolf Woofs and Krazy Kats—oh, a world of toys for good little girls and their good little playmates, the good little boys!

A SMOKING STAND IS SOMETHING HE CAN USE EVERY NIGHT

He probably wouldn't tell you in these words, but if you were to give him a Smoking Stand for Christmas, bronze finish, combining holder, ash tray and match box in one convenient piece, he would think you a mighty good fellow. A man finds his pipe very companionable in the evening and he won't hesitate to light up if you give him a stand to show that you heartily approve.

We have a splendid selection to choose from, priced at $4.50 to $13.50
